Important: Please Read Carefully Before Using Our Services

This Risk Disclosure Agreement (“Agreement”) is provided by CopyTradeExpert (hereinafter “Company,” “We,” “Us,” or “Our”) and applies to all individuals and entities using the Forex Copy Trading services (“You,” “Your”). By accessing and using our platform and services, you acknowledge and accept the inherent risks involved in Forex trading, including the following:

1.1. General Risks in Forex Trading

Forex (foreign exchange) trading involves substantial risk of loss. Trading in the currency markets is speculative, and you should be aware that you may lose all or a significant portion of your investment. Forex trading is not suitable for all investors, and it is important to fully understand the risks involved.

- Leverage Risk: Leveraged trading can amplify both profits and losses. Small market movements can lead to substantial losses, and in some cases, you may lose more than your initial investment.
- Volatility Risk: Forex markets are highly volatile and can experience rapid price fluctuations due to factors such as economic reports, political events, and natural disasters.
- Liquidity Risk: In periods of high volatility or low liquidity, the execution of orders may be delayed or executed at less favorable prices than expected.
- Currency Risk: Currency values can fluctuate widely based on numerous factors, including global economic conditions, interest rates, political stability, and natural events.
- Interest Rate Risk: Changes in interest rates by central banks may influence currency values and create price volatility in the markets.

1.2. Past Performance

Past performance is not indicative of future results. While historical trading performance may provide some insights into a trader’s strategy, it does not guarantee future success.

1.3. Market Risks

- Risk of Sudden Price Movements: Currency prices can change abruptly, often without warning, based on economic news releases, geopolitical events, or market sentiment.
- Margin Calls: Due to the leverage involved in forex trading, a margin call may occur if your account balance falls below the margin requirements. This can lead to forced liquidation of your positions at unfavorable prices.

1.4. Limitation of Liability

By using CopyTradeExpert, you accept that we are not responsible for any financial losses you incur as a result of your participation in Forex trading, including those arising from market movements, trading decisions, or system failures.

1.5. Acknowledgment and Acceptance

By registering for an account and using our services, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and accept the risks involved in Forex trading.
